NEW ANTI-PROHIBITION MOVE PLANNED

CALIFORNIA GRAPE GROWERS TO DEMAND PRO AMENDMENT

WANT NATURALLY FER-MENTED BEVERAGES LEG-
ALIZED FOR SALE IN U. S.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 25.—(P)—Revision of the eighteenth amendment to permit sale of naturally fermented beverages was advocated here today as a new policy of the California Vintners association by Donald D. Conn, managing director of the association.

In a report summarizing his administration for the last five years, Conn charged that a reversal of governmental prohibition enforcement policies threatened disaster to the grape industry and made legalization of wine-making imperative.

He charged that for 12 years the government, by liberal rulings and interpretations of the Volstead act, approved and assisted the growing and sale of juice grapes for home wine-making, only to "betray" the grape growers later by a "complete reversal" of prohibition enforcement policy.

"The government, from the beginning, has been a party to the increased volume of wine-grape production," his report set forth. "Both federal and state authorities not only permitted these additional plantings after the prohibition was passed, but did much to encourage wine-grape marketing and sale."

"Fruit Industries, Ltd., . . . had its genesis as a result of conference between the department of justice, the treasury and the department of agriculture in Wash-

THREE KILLED, TWO WOUNDED AS RESULT GROVETON BATTLES

GROVETON, April 25.—(P)—Three persons were killed and two others wounded in two shooting affrays within several hours of each other over the week-end. Both affairs resulted from old ill feelings.

Walt Crow, 55, constable, and Brint Hollis, 44, farmer, shot each other to death at Groveton Saturday. They had been enemies, officers said, for three years.

William Parker, 20, was killed and Clyde Gibbons, 28, and an 18-year-old youth named Gibbons were wounded at a dance near Friendship Saturday night. A fight between Parker and a young married man preceded the shooting. Officers said there had been bad feeling between the two for some time.

The young married man sent word to officers he would surrender at Groveton today. Gibbons had gone to Parker's home in the fight while Brookfield was a bystander.

Crow and Hollis each shot three times as they met in front of a drug store. Their enmity began with a remark about a woman.

FUTURE OF ROOSEVELT IS EXPECTED TO BE REVEALED IN ELECTIONS ON TUESDAY

WASHINGTON, April 25.—(P)—A climactic decision which may virtually clinch the Democratic presidential nomination for Franklin D. Roosevelt or may cast tremendous odds against him is expected in tomorrow's Massachusetts and Pennsylvania primaries. In these two states the "stop Roosevelt" forces—beaten back so far—have concentrated their strength behind Alfred E. Smith in a stupendous effort to halt the march of the "stop Roosevelt" forces. The struggle resting with the voters today is square cut. At stake, far more important than the 112 votes to be had, is the moral effect on political leaders and voters in the numerous states which yet have to choose their candidates.

The result, however, may be less definite than the issue. On the flensing of opinion, partisan and neutral, appears to favor a division in the votes of both states, Massachusetts throwing the bulk of its 36 electors to the "stop Roosevelt" forces, Pennsylvania giving a majority of its 76 delegates to Roosevelt.

Without the future accompanying the Democratic campaign, the Republicans during this week will select 284 more delegates in 13 states; practically every one of the votes is assured to President Hop-

NEWSPAPERS HAVE NOT FAILED EVEN IN FACE OF DEPRESSION

STANDARDS MAINTAINED AL-THOUGH LOSSES TAKEN
A. P. HEAD SAYS

NEW YORK, April 25.—(P)—The newspapers of America "have not shirked their duty to the public of publishing the news in adequate form," in spite of present conditions, Kent Cooper, general manager of the Associated Press, said today in his annual report to the board of directors of the association.

"To maintain the standards reached in recent years, the publishers have had to sustain severe losses," Mr. Cooper said. "Although advertising revenues have fallen off tremendously, circulation has not decreased materially. Statistics in circulation in such times show that newspapers have established themselves as a necessity."

"Each community requires a complete supply of intelligence, more necessary in times of depression, perhaps, than in a prosperous era. To dig themselves out of depression people must think and they cannot think unless they are reliably informed. Newspapers have carried on admirably and they have been aided to some extent in doing so, in spite of heavy losses, through increasing reliance upon the Associated Press."

In reviewing the work of the Associated Press Mr. Cooper called attention to developments in both the domestic and foreign fields.

Federal Farm Board Wheat to Be Sold Abroad

WASHINGTON, April 25.—(P)—Chairman Stone of the farm board has rejected all offers of private dealers for purchase of the board's surplus wheat and is determined to stand on the present policy of disposal abroad at the rate of 5,000,000 bushels a month.

Republican leaders in congress urged on the farm board chairman the offers of the private dealers, who had promised to sell all the surplus abroad if given the right to purchase it from the board at market prices.

They contended disposition of the surplus would immediately stabilize the price of wheat and brighten the future.

Stone was adamant, however, holding it would upset the present market. The board surplus is estimated at 107,000,000 bushels, excluding the 40,000,000 given to the Red Cross.

At the capitol it is understood the board feels a world shortage of wheat and is hesitating to make an orderly disposition of the remaining surplus.

RESTORED CREDIT AND CONFIDENCE IS DEPRESSION PANACEA

SECRETARY OF TREASURY
MILLS ADDRESSES ASSO-CIATED PRESS MEET

NEW YORK, April 25.—(P)—A reinvigorated credit structure and a "restoration" of national confidence were called for today by Secretary Mills as "twin weapons" which must be forged to turn back the forces of destruction.

The treasury chief addressing the annual luncheon of The Associated Press at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, said that "the wave of fear and the tide of deflation has to be turned back."

"The only way that I know to bring adequate relief to the people of the United States," he said, "is to set in motion forces that will make economic recovery possible."

As one of these forces, Mills outlined controlled credit expansion, amply safeguarded by the federal reserve system.

"Controlled credit expansion is only possible through the operation of that system," he said, "I emphasize this to bring out the contrast between controlled expansion of this kind and pure inflation, such as is involved in proposals now before congress for printing fiat currency, or such as would result ultimately in a series of unbalanced budgets."

On the budget question Mills was emphatic:

"No other greater blow could be dealt to national confidence and to the national credit," he emphasized, "than the failure of the federal government to balance its budget. To follow a sound fiscal policy and to balance its budget."

"This means, for the government, drastic economies; for the people, and additional burden of taxation. What is the alternative? Continuing depression, increasing interest rates, progressive depreciation in the value of all outstanding government securities, loss of confidence and in the end uncontrolled inflation and a sad day of reckoning."

Mills termed it a "most extraordinary and baffling paradox" that this country, richer in actual and real wealth "than anything ever dreamed of by any nation in the world," at the same time has been and is undergoing "the most severe depression ever experienced."

"I have seen nothing," he concluded, however, "even in the darkest hours of doubt, to impair my faith in the promise of American life."

FULL INVESTIGATION STOCK MARKET TO BE MADE BY COMMITTEE

PROBE TO BE RESUMED ON TUESDAY AND BIG SUR-PRISE IS PROMISED

WASHINGTON, April 25.—(P)—Chairman Norbeck of the senate banking committee announced today that the stock market investigation would be resumed tomorrow and promised a "big surprise."

The committee chairman refused to say anything more about whether there would be witnesses, or, if so, who they would be.

He had announced earlier that the investigation would not be resumed until Wednesday, and his sudden announcement stirred widespread speculation.

WASHINGTON, April 25.—(P)—A full investigation of the stock market was ordered today by the senate banking committee while the senate debated the Bankhead-Heflin election contest and the house considered miscellaneous bills.

The stock market inquiry was (Continued on page 10).

Mooney Receives News of Defeat

HITLER'S PARTY STRONGEST OF LOT BUT LACK CONTROL

NATIONAL SOCIALISTS
SWEEP FOUR OUT OF FIVE
GERMAN STATES SUNDAY

BERLIN, April 25.—(P)—Adolf Hitler's national socialists are the strongest political party in four of the five German states today as a result of a sweep of yesterday's elections but they still lack a clear road to control any of them.

The election, which followed two presidential elections in which Hitler's Fascist Legions fought to place him at the head of the Reich, resulted in three deaths, many other casualties and hundreds of arrests.

Only in Bavaria did the Hitlerites run slightly behind.

In Prussia, where the fight was most bitter because of the theory that "whenever control Prussia controls the Reich," the Hitlerite forces garnered 162 seats against the nine they held heretofore.

The coalition which makes up the present government, also opposed by Hitler, was defeated today as was Premier Otto Braun of Prussia and his government probably would resign but that he would be likely to continue to hold office, while a struggle took place over the formation of a new workable coalition.

The National Socialists, with the four minor opposition parties, combined to elect a new government.

NEW YORK GOVERNOR HAPPY THAT STATE RELIEF PLANS REACHING DESIGNED GOALS

New York was the first state to undertake a far-reaching way relief of its unemployed. In outlining his plan to the legislature last summer, Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt proclaimed that the state was obligated to aid those thrown out of work by the depression. The Governor has written exclusively for the Associated Press the following story of what his temporary emergency relief administration has accomplished. The state's first appropriation, $20,000,000, has been spent for wages and for food, clothing and housing for those unable to obtain work. That carried the work through the winter. An additional $5,000,000 was appropriated this year to carry through the summer. In November the people vote on whether relief work will be continued. A referendum on a bond issue of $30,000,000 will determine that.

By FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT
Governor of New York.

(Copyright, 1932, by Associated Press.)
ALBANY, N. Y., April 23.—(P)—At the time of the selection of a new chairman and the appointment of a new member of the temporary emergency relief administration, I want to call attention to the fact that the first period of the work is drawing to its close. At the time of the special session of the legislature last September the state appropriated twenty million dollars for relief work and home relief for the winter and spring and ending on May 30, 1932. We were the first state in the union to undertake state managed relief on this scale with a large and efficient staff and with the recognition of and tying-in of local relief agencies, both public and private, under the general supervision of the state administration. We hoped at that time that the emergency relief work would be much improved by spring; that hope has not been realized.

It is, therefore, worth while recognizing first, that the work of the temporary emergency relief administration has been conducted without regard to politics or the special favoring of any localities, has been conducted at a very low overhead cost, and has proved the soundness of the relief structure which I recommended to the legislature at autumn.

The work will continue. Beginning June 1st we have an additional appropriation of five million dollars to last until election day, and it is my confident expectation that at the election the voters will approve the bond issue for thirty million dollars which is intended to cover the needs of the situation to January 1, 1934.

I am grateful to the officers and employees of the T. E. R. A., for the splendid work they have accomplished and I am happy that it continues in such good hands.

(Note—Two of the three men Governor Roosevelt named to the temporary emergency relief administration, Jesse I. Strauss of New York and Philip J. Wickert of Buffalo, resigned this spring and were replaced by Harry L. Hopkins of New York and Charles D. Osborne of Auburn. The third original member, John J. Sullivan, of Albany remains).

OTHERS REPORTED DEAD AND INJURED TENNESSEE TWISTER

FOUR COMMUNITIES, SHELBY COUNTY STRUCK BY
TORNADO MONDAY

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 25.—(P)—Six persons are known to have perished, several others were reported killed and a score or more were injured in tornadoes that wrought great property damage in portions of Tennessee and Arkansas today.

Four communities in Shelby county, Tennessee, were the worst sufferers. Reports thus far show all of the deaths occurred there.

The dead:

MRS. T. J. DALE, 65, Kerrville, Rosemark.

JESSE L. SPARKS, Jr., aged 3, Robertson, Harris, 65, negro, Millington.

DICK SPAGEE, a negro child, Rosemark.

ETHEL ADAMS, negro woman, Millington.

Unidentified negro, Rosemark. Several negroes were injured and two cotton gins were demolished by another tornado in the vicinity of Osceola, Ark. Thus far no deaths have been reported there.

Earlier in the day a tornado blew into Sweetwater, Tenn., and did considerable damage to dwellings and business houses. No one was injured.

Last night terrific winds swept sections of Northern Alabama, destroying a church and damaging a cotton warehouse at Fort Payne, Ala. A number of houses were blown away there.

Damage at Sweetwater. SWEETWATER, Tenn., April 25.—(P)—Considerable damage was done by a tornado that struck

RED CROSS FLOUR RECEIVED SATURDAY; BEING DISTRIBUTED

The local Red Cross officials have announced that the first shipment of flour made from wheat appropriated from the Federal Farm Board surplus and turned over to the American Red Cross for distribution among the needy, was received in Corsicana Saturday and Monday.

A survey of the county was made and the needs of each community ascertained and committees named in each community to look after the distribution of the flour. These committees have been organized and will take charge of their quotas for distribution.

A total of more than 120,000 pounds of flour was requested for Navarro county by local Red Cross officials and the shipment received is the initial consignment. A survey of the county was made and the needs of each community ascertained and committees named in each community to look after the distribution of the flour. These committees have been organized and will take charge of their quotas for distribution.

NEWSPAPER PUBLISHERS OF NATION IN SESSION DURING THIS WEEK IN NEW YORK CITY

NEW YORK, April 25.—(P)—Hundreds of newspaper publishers from all parts of the country began a series of meetings that will last most of the week.

The Associated Press held its 35th annual meeting today and the American Newspaper Publishers Association will hold its 46th annual convention from tomorrow to Friday. Directors of the North American Newspaper Alliance also met today.

The Associated Press, which now has 1,305 members, had morning and afternoon business sessions. At a luncheon the members heard addresses by two guests: Ogden L. Mills, secretary of the treasury; and John Walter, co-chief proprietor of the London Times. Mr. Mills' address was broadcast.

The presiding officer at the luncheon and business sessions was Frank B. Noyes, president of the Associated Press and president of the Washington Star.

One of the matters before the Associated Press was the election of five directors to succeed those whose terms expire this year, namely Mr. Noyes, Adolph S. Ochs, the New York Times; B. H. Standish, New Bedford (Mass.) Standard; Robert McLean, Philadelphia Bulletin; and Frederick E. Murphy, Minneapolis (Minn.) Tribune.

PROSECUTION IN FINAL EFFORT TO PROVE MASSIE SANE

DR. JOSEPH CATTON, SAN FRANCISCO ALIENIST, IS
WITNESS MONDAY

By WILLIAM H. EWING
HONOLULU, April 25.—(P)— Testifying from a study of the record in the case, Dr. Joseph Catton, San Francisco alienist, expressed the opinion today that Lieut. Thomas H. Massie was sane
when he fired the shot that killed
Joseph Kahahawai.

HONOLULU, April 25.—(P)—The
final effort to prove that Lieut.
Thomas H. Massie was sane when he fired the shot which killed
Joseph Kahahawai was made by the prosecution in the lynching
trial today by calling to the witness stand Dr. Joseph Catton, San Francisco alienist.

The third expert to testify for the prosecution, Dr. Catton carried to the chair a typewritten report of his study of the case. After completion of this report yesterday it became known the San Francisco alienist, like the two preceding him, had concluded Massie was sane at the time of the tragedy.

Dr. Catton testified he was a specialist in mental and nervous diseases. He talked rapidly.

HONOLULU, April 25.—(P)—The insanity plea of Lieut. Thomas H.
Massie, on trial with three others
for the slaying of a native, faced
a final attack today by another expert in the workings of the human mind.

To the testimony of two physicians that Massie was not insane
when he slew Joseph Kahahawai,
whom he was convicted criminally attacked, Mrs. Massie, the prosecution was prepared to add the testimony of a third—Dr. Joseph Catton, Stanford University physi-crist.

Dr. Catton was to take the witness stand to argue today to the jury of mixed racial origin the prosecution's contention the Hawaiian was slain by a sane man,
killing with revenge in his heart.
The defense contends the United States navy officer was temporarily insane while trying to obtain a confession that would restore his wife's good name.

Dr. Catton is the last witness by whom public opinion is expected to be swayed. He is a native of Ireland, a native of Ireland, a native
matron mother-in-law, Mrs.
Graville Fortescue, and two navy enlisted men, Albert O. Jones and
J. Lord, to prison.

A psychiatrist was brought here from the mainland last week
and court was adjourned Saturday to permit him to complete his study of the case. Yesterday he submitted a long report to Kelley.
It was learned Dr. Catton agreed with Drs. Paul Bowers and Robert Faus, the physicians who testified Friday, that Massie was sane when he fired the shot that killed the Hawaiian.

The state hoped to complete its rebuttal with Dr. Catton's testimony and attorneys believed the case would reach the jury not later than tomorrow.

FORMER MAYOR OF PORT ARTHUR WILL ENTER GUILTY PLEA

TO GET SUSPENDED SEN-TENCE ON CHARGE PAYING
POLL TAXES OF OTHERS

BEAUMONT, April 25.—(P)—A compromise agreement through which former Mayor J. P. Logan, of Port Arthur, will plead guilty
to the charge of paying poll taxes
for others, was announced today
by the office of Marvin Scourlock,
county attorney, Monday afternoon,
following a conference with attorneys for Logan.

Terms of the agreement, subject to approval of district courts
of Liberty and Jefferson counties,
and of Clyde and Harris counties,
attorneys, provide for dismissal
of all the other indictments and the imposition of a two-year suspended prison sentence against Logan.

Logan was indicted on 21
counts early last year and later
seven more indictments were returned. All of them dealt with alleged payment of poll taxes for others.

The case was sent to Liberty county January 12 on an application for a change of venue and on March 7 trial began and on the following day a continuance was granted.

Logan is expected to appear in criminal district court here tomorrow morning for plea, and to take sentence, it was said.

Since the indictments were returned and since the Liberty trial,
Port Arthur has voted to change
the city charter, has discarded the old city administration and set up a new city government on the basis of the plan with 444; Stebbins,
Houston, 438; Badgro, Wichita Falls, 424; O'Neill, Shreveport,
400; Dalrymple, Fort Worth, 395;
Medwick, Houston, 394; Fuss,
Wichita Falls, 389; Angile, Fort Worth, 387; Sanders, Houston, 364;
and Moore, Fort Worth, 359.

Other Texas league leaders: 11;
James, Dallas, and Sanders, Houston, 13.
Runs batted in: Medwick, Hous-

By the use of alloys the hitherto alien materials are made an integral part of the steel, on one or both sides.

DAYLIGHT SAVING TIME IS EFFECTIVE SUNDAY MORNING AT TWO IN PART OF WORLD

NEW YORK, April 25.—(P)—Get up at 2 a. m. tomorrow and set the clocks ahead one hour. Daylight saving time will be on us, or at least upon some 142,000,000 of us living in the United States and Europe.

Canada will come in, too, on May 1 and then the savers of sunlight will number approximately 145,000,000.

France set its clocks up April
1, Portugal April 2, Belgium April
3 and Great Britain April 17. Holland will start May 22 and keep the time that way for five months.
Brazil and Chile already have had their little fun with the clocks.
Both of them went back to standard time April 1, after five months

MURRAY'S OUSTER OF WENTZ DECLARED HAVE BEEN ILLEGAL

APPOINTMENT OF WOMAN
TO OKLAHOMA HIGHWAY
COMMISSION IS VACATED

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 25.—
(P)—Nullifying an executive order of Gov. William H. Murray, two district judges today ruled that Low Wentz, wealthy Republican ousted from the Oklahoma highway commission April 23, by Murray, should be reinstated.

The decision vacated the appointment by Murray of Miss Maude O. Thomas, also a Republican, to succeed Wentz. An appeal to the state supreme court is expected.

The decision, by Judges Lucius Babeo and Sam Hooker, was handed down as court opened today. Notice of motion for a new trial was given.

They held that the act of the legislative chamber of 1929, which abolished the highway commission, but is in all respects a constitutional law, declared Judge Babeo.

"We hold that this law is the sole and only source of the power of the governor to appoint a highway commissioner," the decision
added. "Under its provisions a highway commissioner, during the term for which he is appointed,
may be removed from the office
only by any court of competent jurisdiction."

It looks like a dog-fall," was said by Judge Hooker. "The case
it was at the first."

Miss Thomas said she would have nothing to say until she had been notified formally of the ruling. "I don't expect Mr. Wentz probably is too busy with other matters," she added.

The ruling specifically held that the governor has no power to remove a member of the highway commission, and that the "executive order of removal issued by the governor of the state of Oklahoma, April 1, 1932, declaring the office of the defendant (Wentz)
vacant, and appointing Miss Maude
O. Thomas, to serve the unexpired term of the said Low H.
Wentz," is likewise void; and the defendant and not the plaintiff is a member of the state highway commission."

MEMORIAL HOUR FOR U. C. V. AND U. D. C. SUNDAY

REV. W. R. HALL DELIVER-ED MEMORIAL ADDRESS
AT CITY PARK

"Splendidly they passed
Into the light
Which never more shall fade."
To the Confederate veterans of Cahoon, Winkler and members of Navarro Chapter U. D. C. who,
during the year have passed "into
that far-off country," was dedicated the memorial hour held at the city park Monday Sunday afternoon at 6 o'clock.

"Since that fateful day at Appomattox when the ragged and starving veterans of the most glorious army of time clustered around the defeated chieftain
in the agony of a last farewell,
they have justified his confidence
in them by obeying implicitly his injunction to return to their homes and become worthy citizens."

"No command, however hazardous in the conflict of battle,
could have been a greater test of noble character, than the chivalry
of the Confederate soldier in the face of life courageously in the shadow and memory of defeat—no matter how valorous that defeat may have been."

"That the Confederate soldier
has done this and has implanted
in his descendants a love of country is proven by the vast number
of Southern men who won honors beneath the Stars and Stripes
in the Spanish-American and
World Wars, and they, in turn,
will teach their children to hold
inviolate the principles and ideals
of the Confederacy."

"That the Confederate soldier
has done this and has implanted
in his descendants a love of coun-
try is proven by the vast number
of Southern men who won honors beneath the Stars and Stripes
in the Spanish-American and
World Wars, and they, in turn,
will teach their children to hold
inviolate the principles and ideals
of the Confederacy."

"We mourn today the passing of these heroes and these dauntless. Though they are forever lost to us, we are comforted by the fact that they have again
been united in a majority favoring Standard time, and are in glorious company."

Such was the theme carried out in the following program, the songs being beautifully rendered
by a quartet composed of Messrs. H. Gray, W. R. Hall, R. A.
Range, Messrs. C. E. McClung and W. W. Harris.

The service opened with the singing of "Abide With Me."
Mrs. W. L. Holman, historian of Navarro Chapter, U. D. C., presided
during the memorial hour, read
the Daughters' own sacred prayer.
Then followed the Scripture lesson
from Psalms, followed by the lovely old Southern ballad, "Juanita."
Rev. W. R. Hall, pastor of the First Presbyterian church delivered a very impressive memorial address.

Mrs. H. F. Marr called the roll of deceased members and read a beautiful memorial to our two deceased members of Navarro chapter, Mrs. Hazel Goodman and Mrs. Ida Fishburn Jackson, who passed away recently.

Previous to the services a rose wreath had been placed on each of these graves. The quartet sang
"Have Thine Own Way, Lord," a very appropriate reading from the Bible was read by Mrs. H. F. Marr.

The hour was closed with prayer
by Rev. Mr. Hall.
The members of Navarro chapter of the U. D. C. and the members of Confederate graves this year and hope to be able to have every Confederate grave in Navarro
county marked next Memorial Day
with a cross and a flag.

"Of all the thoughts that are
borne inward unto souls afar,
Along the Palmist's music deep,
Now tell me if that any is,
For gift of grace surpassing this—
He giveth His beloved sleep!"

The police of Rock Ford and City Officers O. B. Nutt and R. L.
Tinkle arrested a white man Saturday about six miles east of Corsicana on burglary charges. Defective Nutt said Monday that two cases of burglary had been filed against the man who is still being held in the city jail.

Gubernatorial Tete-a-Tete

It would be interesting to know what Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York was saying to Governor Floyd Olson of Minnesota when this picture was made. The State's executives were photographed in Governor Roosevelt's hotel at St. Paul, Minn., prior to his campaign speech at the Jefferson Day dinner. In his speech, Governor Roosevelt answered the charges made by Alfred E. Smith at Washington, D. C. recently.

GREENVILLE NEXT MEETING PLACE AND MISS EAGLETON DIRECTOR B. AND P. WOMEN

Greenville was selected as the 1932 meeting site of District Two of the Texas Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs at the District morning session of the district conference
which was held in Corsicana over the weekend. Miss Ethel Eagle-ton, of Arlington, presented a report on the district conference.
Arlington club was elected district
director succeeded Mrs. Lola Hoppe of Fort Worth.

More than 185 delegates attended the conference which carried out a compact schedule of inspirational address, entertainment and business in a twenty-four hour period. The Corsicana meeting was the last of a series
of six district meetings which have included all the clubs in Texas affiliated with the state and national organizations.

Corsicana hospitality and beauties of nature, particularly the great fields of bluebonnets, made a deep impression on the visitors
and almost every delegate returned to her home with some of the official Texas flowers.

State Officials Here.
A number of the state officers
attended the conference including Miss Mary O. Lysterstrom of Beaumont, state president; Mrs.
Flo Polmar of Tyler, state co-
responding secretary; Miss Daisy Leake of Temple, past state president and former national vice-president; Miss Mary Jane Higgins of Fort Worth, director at large and past state president;
Miss Edna Harkins of Belton, past national vice-president and past state president, who served as chairman of the district conference.

The series of readings was a series of readings by Miss Mabel J.
Bonner; her first series presented sketches in Scotch, Irish, Italian and French dialects, followed by a sketch in "high and low" American. The series was called "An Evening with the Immigrants."
Miss Daisy Leake, of Temple,
former national vice-president, and
past state president, was introduced by Mrs. Hoppe as being responsible for the organization of more clubs in Texas than any other
club member.

In introducing the president,
Miss Leake related that the Texas
club was born in Sweden, reared in Illinois and had served as state president of the clubs.
She is a statistician for one of the large utilities companies.

Miss Lysterstrom declared that she had come to Texas as her own state. Discussing her visits to the other five regional conferences she said that "efficiency," the state slogan, was being carried out both by the individual clubs and by the organization of
clubs in Texas than any other
club member.

The program was resumed Sunday morning at 7:30 with an "emblem" breakfast at the Corsicana Country Club. The tables were beautifully appointed with various portions of the emblem as a decorative theme. A miniature ship, gilded oak leaves, the headless winged Nike, hermes
staff, the scroll, and the torch
were worked into the scheme at every table. Mrs. Mary Jane Higgins, of Belton, state emblem chairman presided at the occasion. Mrs.
Clara B. Colmbach of Denton pronounced the invocation. The state president was introduced for the benefit of the newcomers. She plimented the Corsicana Club on its lavish entertainment. Miss Lois Long of Fort Worth led
the delegates in a number of pep
songs.

Information concerning the state convention at Dallas in June was presented by Miss Verna Ricketts,
and the conference attendants
were invited to come to Dallas in company by the delegation from that city.

Mrs. Tessie Dickson presented a handsome plaque of the emblem
of the clubs to the Corsicana presiding officer. Mrs. Belle Cavender, the donor, will have her name and the plaque to be handed down
from president to president in the absence of a regular meeting
place.

Miss Daisy Leake was the principal speaker Sunday morning and pointed out that the national pastime of "gold gathering" was almost at a standstill at this time for a number of reasons. She said that no one was able to define the cause or offer a workable solution of modern day problems and that a wonderful opportunity was offered for personal

At the conclusion of the dinner,
visitors were carried to Baum Lodge where an informal program
of entertainment was presented under the sponsorship of the local club. Games and dancing provided varied amusement for the guests.

SPUDDERS PUSHED LEADERS HARD IN SUNDAY'S CONTEST

ESTELL TAMES BUFFS; MAR-
ROW BLANKS GALVESTON;
DALLAS DROPS NOTCH

By BILL PARKER
(Associated Press Sports Writer.)
The twelve-game fight of Fort Worth to gain undisputed leadership of the Texas league race was realized
yesterday when the Cats beat Wichita Falls, 7 to 6.
Twice this season the Cats
have been tied with Houston for first place.

The Cats got a good scare leading victory. At the end of the first half of the seventh, Fort Worth held a 5 to 0 lead. Then Wichita Falls staged a six-run rally to take the lead. In the first of the ninth, the Cats wiped out
the one-run deficit with two runs.
Except for the seventh, McCabe pitched a fine ball game by keeping most of eleven hits scattered
in the first six innings.

The Cats slipped on a tie for the lead in the eighth, losing 1
to San Antonio. The veteran Tom Estell and his spitball pounded the Buffaloes into the dust
from the start. He gave up nine hits in the eighth, but won by Med-wick's sixth home run. The victory was the fourth in the season
in the fourth inning was Houston's lone tally. The victory shoved San Antonio into third
place.

Dallas Drops Notch.
Dallas dropped to fourth place
by losing a 3 to 2 game to Shreveport. It required ten innings for the Sports to beat the combined Pitching of the Buffaloes and the Buffaloes. In the tenth, Best doubled and O'Neill cracked a single to score
Best with the victorious run. Milt Steengraefte hired for the Sports
his third victory this season.

Beaumont got a brilliant two-hit game from Buck Marrow to beat Galveston 11 to 0. Marrow gave Alday and Cox a hit each and a combined error by the Sports Buccaners. The Buccaneers committed eight errors.

Romance Turned UP IN LIFE DEAD
SWEDISH MAGNATE
STOCKHOLM, April 25.—(P)—A tale of romance of 20 years standing turned up today in the language of a Swedish match king, who committed suicide in Paris last month.
It was disclosed he bequeathed about $93,000 to Mrs. Ingeborg Eberth,
Stockholm, a former woman.

Asked if she were "the woman"
in Krueger's life, Mrs. Eberth said:
"If I answer that question it will be telegraphed all over the world.
I will only say that he killed me
the money."

The money probably will not be available for investigation showed no cash among Krueger's assets.
Mrs. Eberth said, however, he had a large sum of money which leads her to believe the money deposited for her somewhere. He was "a fine, noble man," she said.

His death, she told a correspondent for the newspaper, Politiken,
a Communist paper, was a mystery
with unanswered questions in every direction.

She was convinced, she said,
there was some secret in connection with the financial death.
"Why did his brother and sister Torsten and Greta, announce they were going to Paris and then not do so?" she queried.

She said he gave her about $37,
200 in cash, but she had no idea States early this year in case she should need money, but that it was in the form of debentures
which she did not cash and which now are worthless.

INDIANS-CHISOX MAKE BIG TRADE IN MONDAY DEAL

CLEVELAND, April 25.—(P)—
The Cleveland Indians and Chicago
Cubs today added new strength
today by trading for the American League's biggest player trades
in several years.

The deal, announced last night,
sends Shortstop Chalmers (Bill)
Clemens to the Cubs and Moose
the Indians in exchange for Second Baseman Johnny Hodapp and Outfielder Bob Seeds.

Clemens, once known as Chicago's "Cyclone," is expected to be given the Tribe one of the tightest
field-inner gardeners in the league,
while Hodapp and Seeds were sought by the Sox for their punch
at the plate.

Chicago bought Clemens from Portland in 1927 for $75,000 and players valued at $48,000. He is 28, fast and clever, and has a four-year batting average of .261.
The Tribe may use him either at second base or in center.

Seeds is considered one of the most promising young outfielders
in the game, and is likely to hit above .300. Hodapp, a veteran, has a .261 batting average of .320,
but he believed past the zenith of his career.

Cubs Lose Services
Cuyler For a Month
CHICAGO, April 25.—(P)—Chicago's Cubs must do their battling for the leadership of the National league for the next month without the potent bat and dependable
fielder of Fred Cuyler.
The fleet centerfielder yesterday
suffered a fracture of the small toe of his left foot while rounding
first base in the first inning.
Johnny Mowrey replaced him, and came up with a line and a home run, and will be in center
until Cuyler recovers.

JUST FOLKS

A BREAKFAST GOES TO WASTE.
 I've eaten many a breakfast; I've had eggs in every style. I've had waiters bring me dishes which I've pondered o'er awhile. I've had fancy ham and bacon. I've had waffles crisp and brown. Swimming deep in maple syrup from some old New England town. I've had many a meal at sunrise on the edge of lake and stream. When they've served a thin, blue liquid which the cook declared was cream. But the breakfast I'll remember 'til I am a dying man. Was the one they served one morning down in sunny Yucatan.

There were eight of us to eat it—and I'm thinking now of them. We were headed for the jungle, and we rose at 4 a. m. Said the guide: "It won't be fancy, but an all-night place I know. Where they'll have your coffee ready, since at 5 o'clock we go." So he led us to the counter on a little, narrow street. Where two Mexicans were busy cooking eggs for us to eat. And I saw them dip their fingers in the stew pan, and I said: "You can have 'em fried or scrambled but I'll take mine boiled instead." Now I have a fluttery stomach; all the doctor's art and skill. In the presence of strange odors lack the power to keep it still. And I watched those two cooks frying eggs for Kettering and Stone. Till I suddenly discovered that my appetite had flown. And I said: "I don't want coffee, orange juice, or eggs or toast. On this dark and dewy morning, it's fresh air I need the most. Though we're headed for the jungle on a three days' scouting trip, I shan't want any breakfast till we're back upon the ship." (Copyright, 1932, Edgar A. Guest)

ly slaughtered non-combatants in the way of her armies, had issued demands such as a conqueror makes on a defeated people. What had happened to China might happen to any of them; and who would protect them? Obviously, protection could only come from the world at large, rallying to protect solemn engagements. That world was represented by the Assembly of the League. Therefore the Assembly must act, and act decisively.

There could be no denial of this thesis, once it was presented, without destroying the League and returning to the status of 1914. The Briand - Kellogg Treaty would also fall into contemptuous disregard. The logic was unanswerable. The small nations drove it home, and perhaps to the consternation of Great Britain, they had a full support of Canada, Australia and South Africa. Even France's allies deserted her on this issue; Czechoslovakia, Poland, Belgium stood for the covenant of peace without reservation. There was the usual search for a "formula" that would leave Japan an avenue of escape, but it could not be found. Not only did the Assembly take the Shanghai situation within its scope, but Manchuria also.

The "Government spokesman" in Tokio complains that the United States "led the Assembly by the nose." Not so; it was the outraged moral sense of the world that replied unanimously to the treaty-breaking nation. The Assembly, in conjunction with America, has informed Japan that there is a law of nations in this world, and that this law is to be enforced. The next move is up to Japan, for in its present temper the Assembly, if flouted, will proceed to recommend to its constituent nations the infliction of the penalty clauses of Article 16 of the covenant. Under those clauses the offending nation becomes an outlaw. Japan, insane as her militarists are, will never consent to enter such a status, for its world mean irretrievable ruin.

Andy Mellon's boy who went to work in a bank December 1, and had climbed tediously up to the post of director by January 1, seems to have fallen into a rut. He is not yet chairman of the board.

THE WORLD VERSUS JAPAN.

Now it is the world against Japan. By a vote of the Assembly of the League of Nations, the nations of the world, great and small, with the exception of Russia and the United States, have called on Japan to withdraw her troops from China, and have refused to recognize any agreement extorted from China by force. America was already on record through the note sent by Secretary Stimson that she "does not intend to recognize any situation, treaty or arrangement which may be brought about by means contrary to the covenants and obligations of the Pact of Paris" that is, the Kellogg-Briand Treaty.

This is indeed a victory for the peace-makers, the opponents of war. And it was won by the moral leadership of America, backed not so much by the great powers of Europe as by the small nations that can not maintain heavy armaments, and that realized that safety and justice can depend only on world morality, the public opinion of the people everywhere, as represented by their governments participating in a world conclave. The great nations, outside America, were inclined to pussyfoot. They wanted no trouble with Japan. In a way, they were inclined to sympathize with her, for they too had marauded in the past. But the smaller countries saw the situation clearly. A great military power, in defiance of treaties signed and ratified, had taken advantage of a helpless country, had invaded her territory, had reckless-

FALSE LEADERSHIP.

Pride still goeth before a fall. Less than three years ago the country was proud of its captains of industry, its kings of finance. Strong, courageous leadership was everywhere. There was no venture so vast that there were none who dared to undertake it confident of victory. The enterprise, boldness and courage of the American industrialist and financier became the marvel and envy of the world.

But today, where is the courage, the leadership? Where are the captains of industry, the kings of finance? Where is that old pep and confidence and optimism which created colossal industries and amassed almost overnight fabulous fortunes? Is the spirit of America dead or merely slumbering?

B. C. Forbes, financial authority, writes of the melancholy situation in this manner:

"I have never known such abject pessimism, such abject surrender, such utter hopelessness, as have overtaken Wall Street. It is pitiful. It is disgusting. Leadership is non-existent. Determination has vanished. Wall Street has sunk to such depths of despair that it is sure sunshine will never again bless this once-prosperous land."

Thus it would appear that the same financial "wizards" who led the country into the fatal inflation are now leading it into the pit of despair and the slough of depression. Having led the masses over the precipice they are now holding them in the murky waters below. The better part of wisdom seems to dictate deserting this leadership.

A correspondent in the West writes that a small theatre in his locality is heralding the personal appearance of a party who looks like Clark Gable.

If the imminent botanist is sound in his theory that vegetables think, we guess the cabbage would belong to the intellectuals, considering the equipment.

President Hoover may have been right about Valley bringing back prosperity with a song. Crooning would frighten the wolf away from the door.

The prediction that Louisiana may some day erect a monument to Huey Long seems to be based on the fact that Alabama has one to the boll weevil.

Maybe Japan has to go through all this because she promised the service recruit that he would see the world.

SUSPICION THE MOTHER OF WAR.

There are in the United States at least 150 organizations with the avowed purpose of promoting international peace. A vast crop of these came into existence just at the close of the Great war and represent the determination so frequently expressed at the time to make sure that such a catastrophe should not occur again.

It is quite probable that most of these organizations have, if not their affiliated societies, at least their counterparts in most of the countries of Europe. They represent a tremendous sentiment, which grows at least as fast as the increase in population. And that sentiment is being fostered and kept keen by a huge volume of propaganda printing and speech-making.

With even more promise is the movement which is affecting the instruction in the public schools. Whether organized or not, there is a tendency in all education to emphasize international friendship and the ideals of peace. To this end there has been a close scrutiny of the textbooks studies to determine their influence upon youth in matters of patriotism and international outlook. And a consistent program of essay writing and oratorical contests furnishes opportunity for expressing the sentiments prompted by the trend of instruction in international goodwill.

Nevertheless, the total weight of this great body of peace sentiment is largely offset by lack of faith in its own efficiency. So long as the desire for peace qualifies its every expression with the fear that our neighbors need watching, it must serve as a poor guaranty against future wars.

There is little chance of polo ever supplanting baseball as the national sport but putting the tailenders on horseback would even things up a bit.

The coal, gas and oil industries are not behind the health movement to lower the temperature in the American home.

The old alibi of the second division team that "it will be different when the weather gets hot," is about due.

There will be no pointing-with-pride at the Republican national convention this year because it isn't polite.

Pretty soon we shall have to dig out the last year's jokes on digging out last year's straw hat.

DESPOILERS.

During the past 10 years the operations of motor vandals have steadily become more brazen. Not content with plucking flowers and filching fruit and vegetables, they break down ornamental trees and dig up the smaller ones root, stalk and bloom. They tear off great boughs, root up mountain greens and plants, rob the woods of their wild flowers, and will not call it a day until they have a full motor load, have taken the last thing in sight and heap abuse upon landowners defending their property.

This sort of thing is going on all over the United States, and there is every prospect that it will continue and become even more intolerable. Everybody condemns the destruction but there is so much destruction it seems every motorist is guilty of the practice.

There are many who pluck the wildflowers and strip the trees because others will if they do not. Given assurance that the blossoms would remain for them to feast their eyes upon another time, they would leave them unmolested.

Why should it be necessary to treat adults like thoughtless little children and pass laws to punish them for destroying private and public property? Several states have found it necessary to enact drastic legislation against the motor vandal.

During the next two or three months these spoilers of the outdoors will spread their desolation, robbing nature of her rarest charms and hastening the extinction of the very shrubs and flowers they gather so recklessly.

Those victories that peace hath, no less renowned than war, probably will be won during the coming baseball season.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS AND SOVIET RUSSIA TOLD TO HANDS OFF

BLUNT WARING JAPANESE MINISTER OF WAR GIVEN GOVERNMENT APPROVAL

TOKYO, April 22.—(P)—A blunt warning to the League of Nations and Soviet Russia to keep hands off Manchuria was laid down today by General Sadao Araki, Japanese minister of war.

The warning, issued in a speech at Osaka before the Kokuhonsha Patriotic Society, nucleus of the Japanese nationalist movement, was later formally endorsed in foreign office and in other government quarters.

Japan's mission, he said, was to make Manchuria a "Paradise on earth, safe for everybody," and nothing but the league anybody else could make her deviate from that course.

After declaring Japan would resist resolutely any attempt by the league to apply the nine-power treaty, he turned to Soviet Russia and called attention to what he said was a threatening situation in North Manchuria due to Russia's massing troops on the frontier and strengthening her air force in the Far East.

"We are unable to understand what these war-like preparations mean," he said. "The situation is becoming serious. Russia is concentrating four divisions in Siberia or the Manchurian border. We can only wait and see whether the storm breaks. It is time the Japanese made up their minds to co-operate wholeheartedly with the new regime in Manchuria for the establishment of a great civilization in the Far East," he continued. "The League of Nations or Soviet Russia may attempt to frustrate our efforts, since both object to our activities in that region, but they won't be permitted to turn us away for us to heed what they may say about us."

In authoritative quarters it was indicated Japan's already badly weakened ties with the league were further strained by the recent resolution of the committee of nineteen on the situation at Shanghai.

The government's determination to cease entirely to participate in the activities of the league whenever Article XV of the league covenant is applied in Manchuria is already an open secret, although it has not been officially announced.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR MRS. JACKSON FRIDAY AFTERNOON

Funeral services for Mrs. Ida E. Jackson, aged 69 years, widow of the late J. D. Jackson, who died Thursday night about 10 o'clock, were held Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock from the family residence, 1040 West Third avenue, with interment in Oakwood cemetery.

Mrs. Jackson had been in ill health for several months, but had been seriously ill only a short time. The funeral services were conducted by Dr. J. W. Bergin, pastor of the First Methodist church here, of which Mrs. Jackson was a member, and was assisted by Dr. C. R. Wright, pastor of the First Methodist church at Waxahachie, and Dr. Horace Bishop, Methodist minister of San Angelo.

Mrs. Jackson was prominent in religious and social life of Corsicana for many years. She enjoyed a large circle of sincere friends who loved and admired her for her many admirable traits of character. Her many acts of kindness and deeds of charity will cause her memory to live long in the hearts of those thrown in contact with her and the bereaved family has the sincere sympathy of the entire community.

The family has resided in Corsicana for about 25 years and prior to that time lived in Mexico and Dallas.

Surviving are six daughters, Mrs. Lounette Johnson, Corsicana; Mrs. Gertrude Miller, Dallas; Mrs. R. R. Henderson, Houston; Mrs. Tom Darst, Richmond; Mrs. J. T. Bragg, Corsicana, and Mrs. J. M. Dyer Jr., Corsicana; two sons, Douglas F. Jackson and Randolph Jackson, both of Corsicana; 11 grandchildren and one great-grandchild, W. R. Gumm, Waxahachie.

Burialbearers were Douglas Gumm, Dallas; Curtis Fishburn, Dallas; S. A. Fishburn, Dallas; R. J. Jackson, Corsicana; Lowry Martin, Corsicana; John Focke, Mexico; and Ben Jackson, Mexico.

The funeral was directed by the Corley funeral home.

Prosperity Is Real Thing In Vermont Town

GILMAN, Vt., April 22.—(P)—Prosperity stands firmly entrenched on a corner of Gilman's main street.

Back in the hills of Vermont near the headwaters of the Connecticut river, Gilman has enjoyed two years of peace and prosperity. Its leading mill, the Gilman Paper company, is working 24 hours a day, six days a week. Newsprint is being shipped out by the carload. The mill's gum tape department can not fill all its orders and plans are under way to extend its facilities.

The Millet corporation, manufacturers of fibre material and onion bags, is working double shifts full time, and the Craft Bag corporation, a new industry, plans to locate in Gilman shortly and turn out 60 tons of paper cement bags a day.

There's not a man in town out of work. There are no paupers and a strike never has interrupted the town's industrial activities.

KNOB OF MALAKOFF POSTOFFICE SAFE REPORTED KNOCKED

Postal Inspector R. R. Range and R. A. Mergenthaler, fingerprint expert for the Corsicana post office, went to Malakoff early Friday morning to investigate an attempt to rob the post office at that place.

According to information received by Inspector Range, a section house near Malakoff was broken into and tools secured by robbers. They then entered the post office at Malakoff and succeeded in knocking the combination knob off the safe but the door is believed to have jammed and they failed to gain access to the contents of the safe.

The tools were abandoned on the job by the robbers, Mr. Range reported. Nothing was reported missing from the post office, which is a new structure and contains the latest type of equipment.

AGED METHODIST MINISTER HEARD FIRST METHODIST

Sunday was an excellent day from every standpoint at the First Methodist church and Sunday school. At the morning church hour Dr. Horace Bishop preached. Dr. Bishop, a former pastor of First church and a presiding elder of this district, is now eighty-nine years old. He has been preaching over sixty-five years and first preached in Corsicana in 1867 when he helped build the first church building for the Methodist in this city some sixty-one years ago. When he finished preaching at the morning hour, Dr. Bishop asked him if he had his life to live over again would he preach and Dr. Bishop promptly said, "Yes."

At the morning hour Mrs. R. W. Gross sang a solo and the choir an anthem. Attendance was excellent. At the night hour Dr. Bishop preached from the subject, "The Motives of Great Men" and the choir sang an anthem with Mr. Hearn taking the solo part.

At Sunday school the attendance was 466 last Sunday 465, the corresponding Sunday one year ago 515. In the Brotherhood class Guy M. Gibson taught the class and S. W. Burdine presided. In the adult department Mrs. O. E. Bybee was the speaker giving a very interesting report on the recent Woman's Missionary Conference she attended at Gatesville. The couples class will give the program in this department next Sunday.

Miss Inez King was the speaker before the high school department. Her subject was Korea. There were good programs with Mission Sunday services and observed in all departments.

Dr. J. W. Bergin was the speaker and the Glee Club from the State Home sang the Young Peoples meeting at 8:45.

There will be prayer services Wednesday night and choir rehearsal Thursday night. Dr. Bergin announced at the morning hour the coming district conference in Blooming Grove May 3rd and 4th Sunday, May 8th. Mothers Day will be observed with a special program.

BODY OF PIONEER CORSICANA BURIED IN OAKWOOD SUNDAY

The body of Mrs. Laura B. Story, aged 84 years, who died in Dallas Friday night, was brought to Corsicana Sunday afternoon and buried in Oakwood cemetery with a short service at the grave by the Rev. H. R. Allen, pastor of the Cumberland Presbyterian church here, of which deceased was long a member. The body accompanied by relatives and friends arrived on the 2:30 interurban following funeral services in Dallas and the cortege moved from the interurban station to Oakwood.

Funeral services were J. M. Kerr, F. A. Widmer, W. A. Hammett, Hawk Dechard, B. T. Delahay and H. C. Nash, members of the session of the Cumberland Presbyterian church here.

Mrs. Story resided in Navarro county and Corsicana since her early girlhood until some 12 years ago when she removed to Dallas where she has since resided with her son. Deceased was well known to many old-time residents and had many friends here who will deeply regret her passing.

She is survived by a son, J. B. Story, Dallas; a sister, Mrs. Louise Gowan, Corsicana; a brother, Geo. W. Powell, San Antonio and a granddaughter, Miss Laura Marie Story, Dallas, and numerous other relatives.

The funeral was under the direction of the Ed C. Smith and Bro., in Dallas, and the Sutherland-McCammion Funeral Home here.

The passing of Mr. Patterson was regretted by all who knew him. To know him was to love him. He had a smile for everybody and always had time to speak and visit with his friends. We like to think of men of this type. His word was his bond and he went about doing something good for his fellowmen.
We are thankful that Mr. Patterson made peace with God before he passed on to the other side of life. This is what makes life here a success. "For when the one great scorer comes to write against your name, he writes not that you won or lost, but how you played the game." What shall

REPORT CHANGCHOW HAS BEEN OCCUPIED BY COMMUNIST ARMY

AMOI, China, April 25.—(P)—Advices from Changchow today said the Chinese communist army had occupied the city and the soldiers were enjoying a carnival of looting which included raids on the homes of American missionaries, schools, churches and other foreign property.

The communists raided warehouses, stores and homes, the reports said, dividing the contents among themselves.

The belongings of one American missionary were saved by the quick thinking of the cook. The family had taken refuge here, but the cook stayed on the job. When the looters began hammering their way into the house she opened the door, inviting them in. When they entered she treated them to American baked ham. After eating all they could they showed their appreciation by leaving the contents of the house intact. They even presented the cook a pair of slippers they had taken from the house next door.

Airline observers reported that the approaching Cantonese army had arrived fifteen miles southwest of Changchow.

Conditions here remained tense.

W. C. PROCTOR IS AMONG THOSE WHOSE SERVICE
HAS BEEN LONG

Under the pictures of Messrs. Proctor, Faulkner and Stewart, the following item appeared in Sunday's Dallas News which will be of much interest to Corsicans, where the Magnolia Petroleum company has had its inception and where the various officials who will retire are well known:

The retirement of W. C. Proctor, F. V. Faulkner and D. C. Stewart, vice presidents of the Magnolia Petroleum company, effective June 1, after an average continuous service with the company of about forty years, was announced by E. R. Brown, president of the two companies, after directors' meeting Saturday.

Mr. Proctor is also treasurer and assistant secretary of the petroleum company, Mr. Faulkner, manager of production of the petroleum company and Mr. Stewart, manager of the pipe line company.

Courtenay Marshall, secretary of the petroleum company; Charles H. Odamer, Dallas, and E. Audibert, Beaumont, also retired.

Mr. Proctor, Mr. Faulkner, Mr. Stewart and Mr. Marshall will continue to act as directors of the companies.

The directors elected, also effective June 1, W. L. Holmes to be treasurer of both companies; T. F. Fitch to be vice president of both companies and manager of the petroleum company; M. J. McLaughlin to be vice president of the pipe line company and production manager of the petroleum company; F. M. L. Smith to be vice president of both companies, and L. S. Sinclair to be comptroller of both companies.

The retirements were under to Magnolia's annuities plan.

LINDBERGH'S PLAN MOVE TO ENGLEWOOD DURING THIS WEEK

NO NEW DEVELOPMENTS IN PAST FEW DAYS ON THEIR
KIDNAPED BABY

HOPEWELL, N. J., April 25.—(P)—The Lindberghs will move back to Englewood this week, probably Wednesday, away from the Soudland Hills home that has been the scene of so much sorrow for them in recent weeks.

Headquarters of the New Jersey state police, in charge of the hunt for the kidnaped Charles Augustus Lindbergh, Jr., will be at Trenton. Only two or three State troopers will be left at the estate to guard it against trespassers.

There have been no developments in the child hunt for several days.

Not Lindy Junior.
HOPEWELL, N. J., April 25.—(P)—Police announced today that motion pictures of a baby left in a nursery at San Jose, Calif., had been shown to Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, but that after seeing the pictures they had said the baby was not their missing son.

Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf, superintendent of the New Jersey state police, said investigators had been sent to Downingtown, Pa., to question a couple held there.

"This couple," he said, "have not been connected with the Lindbergh case as yet."

A large bed was reported to have fallen on him.

He was rushed to the Navarro Clinic in the Sutherland-McCammion ambulance for attention. Both bones of the left leg were broken and he sustained a head injury, but attending physicians stated his condition was not thought to be serious.

Williams recently was transferred to Rice and was moving his household effects to a house when the accident occurred.

SURE CURE FOR ADDICTS OF DRUG HABIT BELIEVED DISCOVERED BY SCIENTISTS

WASHINGTON, April 25.—(P)—A treatment which its discoverers believe will cure any drug addict who has no complicating illness and who wants to be cured was reported today to the national academy of sciences.

It consists essentially of treating the drug addict with chemicals which counteract the effects of the drug on his system. The announcement was the first public indication that the treatment, already used successfully in experiments, could be applied to addicts in general. It was made before the academy's annual meeting by Dr. Wilbur D. Bancroft, Dr. R. S. Gutsell and J. E. Rutzler, Jr., of Cornell University.

The treatment was made possible by first learning how drugs and chemicals act on the cells of the brain, Bancroft and his co-workers discovered that morphine, opiates, or coagulants, the proteins in these cells. This effect persists after the influence of a dose of the drug wears off, causing the craving for another and so ending the habit. The first experimental cure of a morphine addict was reported by Bancroft and his co-workers in January. Their work since then, apparently, has shown that they were on the right track.

It is important, Bancroft said, that a drug addict should actually wish to be cured. "If a man is down, and out after his treatment, he will probably relapse. If he is a criminal addict and his friends take drugs, he will probably relapse. He will not relapse because of tremendous depression or an intense craving; and he can pull himself out again without much trouble if he wishes to. One patient: dmi."

UNWANTED HAIR.

How many methods are there of removing unwanted hair from the face or the body? Let's consider the electric needle, expensive, slow, but the only way anyone has found to kill off unwanted hair. At that, some of the tiny hairs lurking away out of sight in the follicle, will put in an appearance, and the needle will have to be used again. But this second time generally banishes them forever. Aside from expense, the only thing to discourage you about this treatment is the danger of getting an operator who isn't clever and who may mark the skin with tiny scars. A good one, of course, won't do that.

Hence I generally talk of the other methods. Shaving and depilatories can only take hair from the surface. Neither method encourages hair to grow, nor not to grow. The basic ingredient of a depilatory is a stuff called barium sulphide, which is mixed in varying proportions with starch, or talcum powder or powdered soap, and usually with something soothing and bleaching to the skin. It removes the hair just as it grows below the surface but of course, the hair comes in. Shaving merely takes it on just at the surface. Wax really pulls the hair out. It is put warm, the heat opens the pores letting the wax get in a trifle, and letting it get a good grip on each hair. Some hairs do not come back, with this method, and if you persist, year after year, you'll greatly diminish even a thick growth of hair. For the upper lip, for eyebrow shaping, for hairs on the chin, and between the eyebrows, wax is wonderful. But it is too expensive for the arms or the legs or under the arms.

Tweezers Are Ideal for Odd Hairs. More or less will not matter, as the amount of it is governed by the results. If it purges very much, take a small dose, and then omit them for three days. Repeat the doses for another three days and stop again for three. Then to twelve days of these alternate methods should be enough for a cleansing. Never take any spring blood purifier until the weather is settled.

GOVERNMENT FILES BRIEF IN OPPOSING REVIEW FOR CAPONE

SUPREME COURT EXPECTED TO PASS ON MATTER NEXT MONDAY

WASHINGTON, April 25.—(P)—The anti-prohibition portion of the Supreme court of Al Capone's conviction was expressed today by the government through Solicitor General Thacher.

Capone's plea for review is pending before the court and will probably be passed on May 2.

In a brief filed in the court today, Thacher said the government contended that the counts of the indictment against the racketeer were sufficient to establish his guilt. He said that the government had been deprived of his constitutional rights because the counts of the indictment charged him in general terms with attempting to evade the income tax without specifying the particular way in which he went about it.

The government brief said that where a crime was purely statutory, it was sufficient, as a general rule, if an indictment charged an offense in the "words of the statute," provided it gave details of the crime sufficiently to enable the defendant to prepare for his defense.

Thacher said this had been done and that it was clear that Capone's defense against the charges had not been interfered with and added that the racketeer had asked for no bill of particulars.

The supreme court has already refused to review the conviction of Ralph Capone's brother, and other Chicago gangsters who were convicted by failure to pay income taxes.

The service delivered to South America held its own even though the countries served among the first to feel the effects of economic distress and to suffer additionally because of many social and governmental revolutions. There was a net gain in the number of papers served, while the principal newspapers in the important cities were retained.

Mr. Cooper noted that the decline in trading on the securities markets had not lessened requests for additional features and he said that the numbers of newspapers served by supplemental financial wires was the largest in Associated Press history.

Mention also was made that the organization now was operating purely state services in every state in the Union at a saving of many thousands of dollars to members, and attention was called to expansions in the sports department, the feature service, the picture mat service and the news photo service, which established a new peak record of efficiency.

The morning and evening services have been operating virtually as separate entities, Mr. Cooper said, but complementing each other with a general editor directing each. This move has resulted in speeding up of news bulletins for both morning and evening newspapers.

The anti-prohibition portion of the Supreme court of Al Capone's conviction was expressed today by the government through Solicitor General Thacher.

Organized Wets In Congress Skeptical

WASHINGTON, April 25.—(P)—Organized anti-prohibitionists in congress today looked with considerable skepticism on the proposal of the Volstead act, director of the California Vineyardists' Association, that the eighteenth amendment be modified to permit the sale of naturally fermented beverages.

Meanwhile, Secretary Hyde and the office of Attorney General Mitchell denied a statement by Conn that Fruit Industries, Ltd., "had its genesis as a result of conference between the department of justice, the treasury and the president of agriculture in Washington."

Chairman Stone however, said the farm bill did not deal with "any" to Fruit Industries "until it had been assured by the department of justice, the treasury and the prohibition bureau that the grape concentrate business of that country was perfectly legal."

A statement by the department of justice said it "was never consulted and did not participate in any conference concerning the marketing of grape concentrates for making wine in the home."

Loans Only Considered.

Assistant Attorney General Richardson at one time advised the federal board of directors of the federal farm loan bank, but no question of any other character was ever presented or considered. The assertion that the department of justice directly or indirectly approved or even considered at any time any question relating to home wine-making is without any foundation in fact.

While house supporters of the prohibition law have threatened Representative Linthicum of Maryland, chairman of the house wet bloc, expressed the opinion that "congress will never agree to a change in the prohibition laws that favors one industry."

He agreed with Representative LaGuardia of New York, secretary of the republican wet bloc, and other congressional anti-prohibitionists in saying the government's "about face on wine is not unusual in view of its previous inconsistencies in prohibition administration."

LaGuardia held differences between the federal board and the federal government are the inevitable and expected fermentation of hypocrisy.

PIONEER RANCHER DEAD; TWO WOMEN CHARGED MURDER

LUBBOCK, April 25.—(P)—District Attorney A. J. Folley of Floyddada told the Lubbock Journal over long distance telephone today that J. A. Cunningham, elderly ranchman, recently had drawn up a will leaving his property to Mrs. Ruth McComas, now charged with his murder.

The will expressly stipulated that the woman, his housekeeper, should not inherit his property if his death were at her hands.

Folley said Mrs. McComas had admitted killing the ranchman. Earlier she had said her 13-year-old daughter, Edith, killed him with an axe when he made advances to her. Cunningham, 68 years old, was slain Saturday morning at his ranch home, ten miles east of Matador.

Folley was at Silverton today. The 11th district court is in session there.

Mrs. McComas and the girl were in the Floyddada county jail at Floyddada. Both had been charged with murder. Their counsel announced that habeas corpus proceedings would be instituted. Folley and Farris Fish, named as special prosecutor, said they would oppose any attempt to have bond granted.

Mrs. McComas said she was 31 years old. She is a divorcee and has two children younger than Edith. In her first statement, made in writing, she said she and the girl came to Cunningham's home about three weeks ago.

Cunningham had lived in Motley county more than 40 years. He also had been divorced. He is survived by two brothers and a daughter living in Los Angeles.

MATADOR, April 25.—(P)—J. A. Cunningham, 68, pioneer Motley county cattleman, was dead today and his housekeeper and her daughter, charged with murder.

Mrs. Ruth McComas, 31, divorcee, and her daughter, Edith, 13, were held in jail here without bond. The slaying occurred Saturday at the Cunningham ranch ten miles from Matador. In a written statement Mrs. McComas said her daughter struck Cunningham with an ax in resisting an attack.

Mrs. McComas said she and her daughter came here three weeks ago and that she obtained a job as Cunningham's housekeeper. Cunningham had been in the cattle business in Motley county more than 40 years.

Mrs. McComas and her daughter formerly lived at Brownfield.

Grand Jury Starts Probing Oil Thefts

HENDERSON, April 25.—(P)—A Rusk county grand jury today began investigating reports of fraudulent operations in the oil field area, based on alleged oil thefts by means of bypasses and other devices.

Officials revealed that numerous witnesses had been summoned to testify before the jury. It was learned that special investigators representing lease and royalty owners had gathered considerable evidence.

decided on at an executive session of the committee. Special investigators will be sent to New York to seek ammunition.

Meanwhile, a World War veteran, was hissed and heard one cry of "throw him out" while he testified before the house ways and means committee against cashing the soldiers' bonus.

The veteran, Fred C. Reynolds of Baltimore, was joined by James A. Emery of the National Association of Manufacturers in protesting the legislation.

The senate finance committee, considering the controversial tariff angle of the billion dollar tax bill, voted for import duties on oil, coal and copper but rejected forest products.

Efforts were made by the house economy to agree on the measure to reduce government expenditures will be considered Wednesday.

Senate May Send Probers to Street

WASHINGTON, April 25.—(P)—A decision faced the Senate's banking committee today on whether to send agents into Wall Street brokerage houses to obtain the full story of operation and effect of stock market pools, in which nationally-known figures have participated.

The trail of testimony so far taken in the committee's investigation of the New York Stock Exchange has been to establish existence of these combines, formed to profit by rise or fall of a particular stock, but all have stopped dead when it came to proving what the pool traders did to force prices in the direction by which they planned to profit.

A number of traders and brokers have been subpoenaed to appear before the committee, but they probably will not be heard for several days, as the hearings have been temporarily suspended.

Others may be called, including Chairman Raskob, of the democratic national committee, who participated in a pool described in Saturday's testimony.

Conspicuous among points the senators wish to establish is whether the pools have been working in the market since the beginning of the year, and whether they have been working in the market since the beginning of the year, and whether they have been working in the market since the beginning of the year.

GARMENT PROTECTION

The Spray Method

Costs so little and the benefits are so great that few people care to leave their expensive winter garments to chance. Remember, it's not the winged moth, but the larvae that do the damage. Guard against the unseen menace.

A method gaining in popularity. Simply spray the garment with a stainless steel larvicide repellent liquid and your's protected. Larvex and Kilt are the better for spraying.

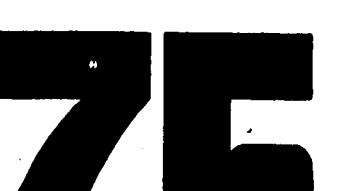

Apex Moth Crystals kill all stages of moth life. Leaves no odor.

Texas and Pacific Files Report 1931 Operating Revenue

DALLAS, April 25.—(P)—A decrease of $7,534,342.18 in operating revenues of the Texas and Pacific railroad for 1931 as compared with 1930 was shown in the annual report released by J. L. Lancaster, president.

Operating expenses were reduced $5,806,648.10, making the decrease in net revenue $1,727,694.08. The figures were: Operating revenues $30,007,559.19; operating expenses $22,472,865.11; net revenue $7,534,694.08.

While most commodities handled showed a decrease in tonnage, there was an increase in oranges, grapefruit and crude oil.

Beaumont Man Is Found Shot Dead

BEAUMONT, April 25.—(P)—The body of C. T. Bunch 55, for many years an employee of the Wilson Hardware company, was found at the rear of his home in Orange county, three miles east of here Saturday before seven o'clock this morning after members of his family had heard a pistol shot fired.

Justice of the Peace J. A. Ward of Widor, announced that he would return a verdict of suicide.

Bunch's services with the Wilson Hardware company had been terminated a week ago with the elimination of his department.

Confidential information is against the exchange rule and Senator Brookhart (R., Iowa.) after hearing the radio pool testimony, said he favored legislation to make such a practice illegal.

Exhibits in "Honor Slaying"

Holding the pistol with which he believes the fatal shot in the famous "honor-slaying" case was fired, John C. Kelley, Honolulu prosecutor, is pictured in court. On the table before him are other exhibits which Kelley charges were used by Lieut. Thomas Massie, Mrs. Grace Fortescue and two U. S. sailors in the killing of Joseph Kahahawai, Hawaiian youth, in retaliation for a brutal attack on Mrs. Thalia Massie. Inset is Lieut. Massie, whose sensational evidence on the stand thrilled the court.

here early today but no one was injured.

It blew into town through the residential section, destroying a garage and unroofing three residences.

It then swept into the business district and damaged a garage, wrecked two chimneys on a hotel and unroofed a warehouse, a flour mill and a textile mill.

DENVER, April 25.—(P)—A man and a woman lost their lives when snow storms displaced spring weather in the Rockies over the week-end.

Mrs. E. E. Snowden, school teacher, Trinidad, Colo., apparently died from exposure while wandering in a blizzard.

Over exertion and heart disease caused the death of C. C. Johnson, Marlon, Kas., who was walking from a snowbound bus west of Cheyenne, Wyo.

Building Burns At Floyddada on Monday

FLOYDDADA, April 25.—(P)—Fire originating in the Floyddada Drug company building early today caused a loss estimated at $15,000. Doctor's office and a beauty parlor were swept by the blaze. The First National Bank building was damaged by smoke and water. The drug store's loss in stock, fixtures and building was in excess of $12,000. Effective action of the fire department prevented the fire from spreading to other structures in the business district.
